New hotel coming to Luverne; GrandStay Inn and Suites breaks ground

By Lori Ehde

Organizers and investors broke ground Sept. 12 on the new GrandStay Inn and Suites on South Highway 75.

The hotel will be located on the property of the former Pizza Hut restaurant, and the anticipated opening is spring 2013.

The structure itself will be set back behind (to the west of) the current lot, which will serve as an entrance and parking.

Original plans called for the hotel to have 51 units, 12 suites with full kitchens, a pool, whirlpool, exercise facility meeting rooms and gourmet express breakfast.

According to the city's Planning and Zoning office, a building permit was approved Aug. 8 for the $2.8 million project.

The permit was issued to Beck and Hofer Construction, Sioux Falls, and Luverne's Gary Papik is listed as a contact for the owners, who are listed as "Luverne Hotel Partners."

Papik said he's been working on the project for nearly a year with several other interested local investors and the hotel has been a group effort of all the Luverne hotel partners toward improving the community.

"Everyone involved with this project has a definite passion for Luverne and wants to see it move forward," Papik said.

"Whether or not there's money to be made wasn't the question. That's not their goal. They just want to see something move forward."

In addition to Gary and Janine Papik, the Luverne Hotel Partners include Bob and Meiko Douty, Jim and Stacie Remme, Tim Gust, Curt and Marilyn Bloemendaal and Ryan and Gretchen Jepperson.

According to the website, GrandStay Hotel & Suites is the most versatile brand of GrandStay Hotels.

It offers a wide variety of guest rooms including extended-stay suites with full kitchens.

Every GrandStay Inn and Suites includes Bath & Body Works Products, Grand Returns Rewards Program and Seattle's Best Coffee.

What We've Heard . . . Compiled by Jane Wildung Lanphere

Cindy Getman Benjamin (LHS 1964) sends Memories of Margaret Vegge:

As a child, when I would go into Renfro Variety, Margaret always made me feel special. On any visit to Luverne it was always a place we needed to visit. Every time I went in, she knew my name. "OK. You are one of those Getman kids aren't you?" Then she would ask about my brothers.

When all the Getman and Keitel cousins were in Luverne for Aunt Lucille Getman's funeral, we celebrated my brother Jim's birthday. We all went to Renfro's to buy him wonderful gifts. Margaret was so happy and told others what a great sales day she had. Margaret was a special part of my life and the lives of thousands of LHS graduates!

Linda Vos (LHS 1961)
sends greetings to Luverne alumni from her home in Loveland, CO. Linda keeps busy. "I'm on our local Credit Union Board and home owner's assoc. board. Continue to bowl in two senior leagues. Find time for my horse." She writes it was a hard summer for Colorado with the heat and lack of rain...but the Alumni News is always a day brightener!

Skyler Hoiland, Mike and Lynette Hoiland send a A big THANK YOU for allowing the Bluestem to be featured in the latest edition of the Alumni News. We were very surprised and delighted to have this recognition and information going out into the hands of so many past and present people with "Luverne roots!" How very kind of you to think of us.

Let's Hear from YOU!

Let us know what you are doing and we'll pass it on to other alumni. Complete and then place this form in an envelope and mail to:

We are reminded daily of the great importance of close knit, supportive "Small town USA" Community, and we look forward to having the pleasure of your Company at "The Bluestem!"

Marilyn (Hatting) Hoiland (LHS 1965) of Tempe, AZ still remembers the hot and humid summer days in Luverne. She writes: "I had hoped to attend Hot Dog Day (July 12) but realized it was hotter and more humid in Luverne than here in Tempe, AZ. Maybe next year! Keep up your good work on the news!"

Linda (Remme) Jones (LHS 1961) sends a "thank you" for all those who work to put out this publication. It really is nice to hear from so many friends over the years. Luverne is a very special town and I loved living there as a child. The memories of those years are dear to my heart. We had loads of good fun and sometimes pranks. There are days when I would love to be doing those pranks once again!

Len and Irene (Lapic) Hanson (LHS 1945) of St. Peter, MN send greetings to all their friends.

They particularly appreciated the photo of the 1945 track team in the last issue. They miss coming down to Luverne to stop by the Magnolia Steak House to see their friends, the Dispanets.

Len had a long relationship with Magnolia and the Steak House as he taught at Magnolia High School from 1949 to 1952.

Luverne High School Marching Band

Luverne High School Marching Band in formation at one of the home games. (1963)

Thanks for the memories

One of the greatest things about Alumni News is sharing the experiences of growing up in Luverne and Rock County. All of us have memories of things we did, people we knew, events we shared and what we witnessed. "Thanks for the Memories" is composed of a selection of comments and writings submitted by LHS Alumni on specific topics that are introduced in previous Alumni News editions. This edition is about memories our alumni share about the Luverne Tri-State Band Festival.

Tri-State Band Festivals – fondly remembered!

My memories of leaving the school property to march down the quiet side streets to get to the parade route for the Tri-State Band Festival is one of my best memories of growing up in Luverne. Of course, leading the band down Main St. beats all of it!

The last football game of my senior year, we lined up to march onto the football field at half time and it started to snow. Our uniforms were wool but short—remember the boys basketball shorts? Our uniforms didn't cover any more than those basketball shorts.

I twirled my baton until the ends rotted. I still twirl any stick I see when I pick one up. My children patronize me and smiling, they let me reminisce.

I love all parades, big and small, but those parades on Main St. in Luverne remain the absolute best because of the pride and perfection of the LHS Marching Band.

Cindy Getman Benjamin – LHS 1964

Thank you, Mr. Haugen!

My earliest recollections of marching bands were set on cool autumn mornings at the end of September when buses would bring musicians from around the tri-state area to the Band Festival. I grew up in a house on Luverne Street very close to the elementary school and I would listen to all of the bands as they warmed up playing marches by Sousa, Kind, and Fillmore. Those experiences set the tone of my life. When I became old enough, I took Mr. James' advice and joined the band. Through eight years as a member of the Luverne band program, I joined some of my closest friends in creating music, I was mentored by Tom Haugen in to my future occupation, and I met the girl of my dreams. As I begin my 38th year as a high school band director, Tom Haugen is still a friend and mentor. My wife, Cindy (Christianson – LHS 1973) is still the girl of my dreams. I owe a great deal to the Luverne band program.

Steve Connell – LHS 1970, Orange City, IA

Reunion News Class of 1965

The weekend of August 3-4, 2012, was not the usual "every five year" reunion for the class of 1965. The actual 45 year gathering "slipped by" in 2010, so when the idea occurred that the class of '65 would be turning 65 in 2012, the organizers chose the Class of '65 Turns 65" as the theme for our 47th class reunion. (Karen Christensen Kullnat) pointed out that most of us were born in 1947, and it was our 47th reunion!)

All communication was through the Alumni News (THANK YOU!). We met informally at Sharkee's on Friday evening. It was a chance to adjust to the changes in appearance and to catch up on the past years.

On Saturday, the classmates gathered in small groups to golf, have brunch, have lunch, tour Luverne, (some in Breezo's 1966 Chevy), and to prepare the potato bar for dinner.

At 5:00 p.m. on August 4, 45 classmates and 26 guests arrived at the Luverne Country Club for social hour and then dinner. After dinner, Joe Kafka emceed his version of The Newlywed Game. The "volunteer newlyweds" were Karen Christensen Kullnat and husband Jim, Larry Boll and wife Carlene Jessen Boll, and Jerry Deuschle and wife Kathy Molitor Deuschle. It was interesting how well the couples KNEW one another!

Luverne High School graduate Bryce Davis (class of 1965) recently traveled the entire historic Route 66 from Chicago to the Santa Monica Pier in California. A magnetic sign on his 1966 Chevy Impala says, "Getting my Kicks on Route 66 ... in my '66 at 66."

As we reminisced and planned for our 50th reunion in 2015, we set our goal at encouraging all classmates to attend the next reunion to make it even better!

The Luverne High School Class of 1972 gathered July 28 at the Luverne Country Club for a 40th reunion. Luverne Class of 1972 celebrates 40 years

Submitted by Rick Jauert, for the Alumni News

On the beautiful Minnesota weekend of July 27th and 28th, the LHS Class of '72 got together for our 40th class reunion!

During that weekend of festivities over 60 classmates and their spouses/significant others got together.

With a little help from Mott the Hoople's "All the Young Dudes," The Chi-Lites' "If You Don't Know Me by Now," Rod Stewart's "You Wear it Well," Bill Withers' "Lean on Me," Al Green's "I'm Still in Love With You," and Derek & the Dominoes' "Layla," (and the rest of '72 music), we caught up on current lives, shared treasured memories and promised to do a better job of staying in touch.

I've been to seven of eight of our reunions (sorry, I was backpacking Europe for the first one). I wouldn't miss one because the community of Luverne has made me who I am. Others feel the same, I'm sure.

That's why classmates came from as far as California, Illinois, Texas, Washington, D.C., and, this year, even Australia! Yes, one of our AFS students, Lynn Walmsley, and her handsome and charming son, Robert, came all the way from Brisbane, Australia. Lynn was from New Zealand and lived with the Rich and Shirley Christensen family. She was also my prom date!

The Class of '72 was special. Of course everyone thinks their class is special, but, I believe, the Class of '72 exemplified(s) the sense of

Retired teachers reminisce at reunion

There were a few more wrinkles and a bit more gray hair, but the spunk and spirit of the Luverne Public Schools retired teachers was still evident at their annual get-together Thursday, Sept. 6, at the Blue Mound Banquet Center.

"Wrinkles in Time" was the title of a wall of photographs of the attendees when they began their teaching careers at Luverne.

Twenty-four retirees showed up for the 17th annual retired teachers' event. (See photo). Jim Sanden was the emcee for the evening and led the retirees down Memory Lane.

It was fun to remember the unity and friendship that the staff shared when everyone worked for a common purpose.

The group took time to remember the late Gordon Gits, a longtime English teacher at Luverne High School.

There were numerous stories about "Gordy" and even one recollection by Jake Boomgaarden who remembered being the referee at a Slayton basketball game when Gordy was playing as a senior on the Slayton High School team.

A stuffed pork chop dinner at Blue Mound Banquet Center was prepared and served by Cynthia Boll, formerly Cindy Molitor, an LHS grad.

One way that retirees could brag about their grandchildren or anything on their minds was to offer a donation called "Cardinal Cash." The idea was a way to raise seed money for next year's reunion.

Thank you, Mr. Snyder!

No glossy photo accompanies this remembrance of LHS, because during my high school years, there were no organized sports for girls. We had two options: cheerleading or playing in the band.

The Shelby cousins, Gail Shirley, Inez Marilyn and Verna (plus others) covered the cheerleading support. I chose the band, and never questioned our sports "drought". Both Joan Moeller and I played the cornet and were also baton twirlers.

Our director, Roy Snyder, allowed us to alternate roles for parades and half-time performances. Luckily, we wore the same size in both uniform and boots.

Inspired by our son's post high school participation in charity runs, I began running 25 years ago, and finish about seven events each year.

High School girls of today- be thankful for your athletic opportunities!

Thank you, Mr. James!

Whenever I hear the University of Michigan Fight Song ("The Victors") I am reminded of the summer of 1961. That year those of us in the LHS marching band had been made aware that we should expect a new band director.

Mr. Ron James blew into our lives, trumpet in hand, upon completion of his master's degree in music from the University of Michigan. Things would never be the same.

Several weeks before school was to start we were notified that band practices would begin in the evenings ... before school even started! What kind of a "nut" did we have here? At our first practice, Mr. James informed us that beginning immediately we would be preparing for different half time band performances for ALL home football games. This was a major change from the one show a year we were accustomed to performing for the Homecoming half time. In addition, we would be expected to form multiple formations AND while marching from one formation to another, we would be playing "The Victors" from memory.

Of course those of us with any marching experience and common sense were pretty sure that all of this would never be accomplished. He had much different ideas. ... He was right.

One of Mr. James' pet peeves was band members wearing their uniform in a disheveled manner. When you put on your uniform all buttons were to be buttoned, black shoes would be shined, and your total image was one of pride and professionalism.

I will always remember Mr. Ron James as the individual that loved "The Victors" and forever changed the future of the LHS Marching Band Program.

From Batons to Flags!

When I was in High School, Ron James wanted flag twirlers instead of baton twirlers ... no problem. We attached flags to our batons in 1965 and competed at the Tri State Band Festival to "Moon River." It was slow enough that we did not have to do too many moves. We came in fourth out of four. We were using batons instead of flags on the night of the marching band's famous fiasco - the Redwood Falls game.

I never felt so badly but laughed so hard at the same time. We all still remember that night when the band got out of sync with the drummers. What a memory!

Do you know of any these faces?

Many of us were in Marching Band before we ever started school. This is a photo (see next page) that I have in my scrapbook.

I am the first one in the second row on the left. (Ethel Wilcox Nelson) I have another yellowed newspaper clipping but it is not as clean in some ways.

So, many of us at all ages took baton lessons from Martha Sellen. They lived in a white house not far from the school where this was taken. She gave lessons on the flat balcony of her home. I recognize some people in the photo but not all. I believe that Jeanne MacIntosh is the end girl in the first row on the right. I think Becky Husen is in the first row, third from left. Randa Smith may be the fourth over.

There was a girl named Sandra Qually who would be in the middle (fifth from left.) I think that there may be Shelly Thomas in the second row. I see Eleanor Rober, who was our next teacher, in the top row. The boy in the front was Billy Meinert. He could have been the future Joel Schmaltz.

I am putting this on "The Class of 65 turns 65" Facebook page and am hopeful that others will remember.

We marched to Sousa's "Washington Post March." We actually marched with the LHS band. Little did I know later that I would do that in Jr. High School and High School.

It is too bad that I didn't remember my lessons well. My younger sister, Mary Wilcox Ebert, did a much better job as a baton twirler than I did.

Our uniforms were long sleeved white wool and my sister wore short sleeved sparkles of red and white.

Here are some of the names -

34- Sharon Jacobs; 36 - Eleanor Rober; 37 - Kaye Anderson; 38 - Sue Norelius; 40 - Patti Olson; 22 - Twyla Hamann; 23 - Judy Connell; 26 Judy Cummings; 28 - Sue Manion; 29 - Vicky Golla; 30 - Linda Remme; 31 - Martha Sellen; 11 - Ethel Wilcox; 14 - Linda Goeske; 15 - Kathy Thomas; 16 - Niki Wendt; 17 - Audrey Madison; 18 - Dixie Winge; 19 - Ann Brehm; 20 - Cindy Carsrud; 3 - Donna Piegras; 6 - Sandra Qually; 7 - Sheila Smith; 8 - Becky Hamann; 9 - Rand Smith; 10 - Jean McIntosh; 5 - Bill Meinerts

Luverne Initiatives For Tomorrow needs support from LHS Alumni

Two years ago, over 130 people gathered together to develop a vision for the future of Luverne. Through private and public funding, the firm LHB was hired to help us put into words what we think of Luverne and what we want for Luverne's future.

This initiative was called the Commercial Revitalization Project and a Governing Board was elected to move it forward. Members are: Marilyn Bloemendaal, Pat Baustian, Greg Burger, Gary Papik, Bill Weber, John Call, Kyle Oldre, Holly Sammons, John Aanenson, Tammy Makram, Brenda Winter and Jane Wildung Lanphere.

Over the past two years the name of the organization changed to Luverne 2021. Realizing how the name was "time-stamped," a new name has been adopted. The Executive Board is proud to announce the formation of a private, non-profit organization that will focus on the future of Luverne. The name of this organization is L.I.F.T. - Luverne Initiatives for Tomorrow.

What has come from the work that has been done by this organization?

- Private developers have invested in the construction of a new hotel which will open in May/June 2013 – watch for Luverne's GrandStay Inn & Suites at the former Pizza Hut site

- Homer Staves, a campground consultant, has completed a study on the establishment of a campground in Luverne

- City of Luverne has included a major improvement project on South Highway 75 with their planned infrastructure project. The project includes sidewalks, greenspace, seating areas, new streetlights, banners...everything included in streetscape improvements

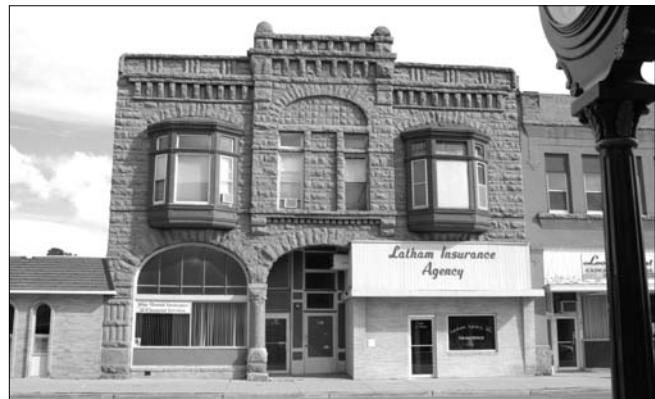

- Luverne Branding Initiative

- Establishment of the Historic Preservation

Commission (through the City of Luverne) to assist private improvement in historic buildings

- Establishment of new businesses and sales of existing businesses

- Private investment in downtown historic buildings with investments in building improvement

The Arcade Building has been purchased by local investors and plans are moving ahead for a renovation to bring the building back to its historic look. It was once known as the Stephen's Meat Market Building.

(the Arcade Building has been purchased and plans are moving ahead for a renovation to bring the building back to its historic look) (also called the Stephen's Meat Market Building)

- Application by the EDA for a Small Cities Development Grant

- Citizens creating the opportunity for private investors to become partners in the first-ever Luverne craft brewery ... information is available NOW!

- And more!

If you, as a proud LHS Alumni, want to be part of this exciting revitalization of your hometown - L.I.F.T. has made that possible. The Executive Board has established this initiative as a private, tax-deductible, non-profit organization. A charitable contribution can be made through L.I.F.T. for Luverne's future. community that makes Luverne the warm and welcoming town it is.

I recently returned to Luverne for health reasons after 32 years in Washington, D.C. I chose Luverne because it has always been home to me, and because I knew I'd find a community filled with the welcoming love and compassion that I needed. And I haven't been disappointed. I learned the stuff Luverne is made of 46 years ago.

That was when a 12-year-old little boy's world fell apart with the drowning accident of his father and uncle. But the remarkable LHS parents of that little boy's classmates enveloped him with so much love, laughter and activity he didn't have time to suffer in silence.

Moms and Dads set another plate at the table, made room in the car for another passenger to an away LHS game, and involved him in their family activities. His confidence grew, and his heart healed. He was encouraged by wonderful teachers to dream big (five of whom have visited with him since he returned). He did dream big, and most of those dreams have come true! I know because I'm that kid.

I've traveled the world because I realized we enrich our lives, and make a safer world if we experience it firsthand as I first did as an AFS student to the Philippines, at the insistence of Dorothy Brehm.

I made it through a newly free Czechoslovakia (only) by speaking German I learned from Frau Frakes 20-plus years earlier at LHS! I've pursued an incredibly rewarding career in public service due in large part to the inspiration of two great LHS Social Studies teachers, Jim Sanden and Larry Nelson.

Yes, I am who I am today because of the values, faith, principles and ideals I learned growing up in Luverne and attending LHS. It does indeed take a village – but a special village like Luverne.

Public education is the great equalizer in America where a kid with a single mom living on a poor farm can grow up to be "Scholar of the College," become Chief of Staff and Senior Policy Advisor to Members of Congress; meet several U.S. Presidents; and rub elbows with Prime Ministers – and even a King and Queen of foreign countries!

Most importantly, I've learned to pay it forward. That is why I return to class reunions, call Luverne home, and established a scholarship in my mother's name in the Dollars For Scholars program. I am eternally grateful for all Luverne has given me (and continues to give). Thank you LHS. Pay it forward everyone. Give to Dollars For Scholars.
